Letter from the Editors

Dear Readers,

Celebrate the spooky Halloween season by coloring! This collection of 5 Halloween Coloring Pages for Adults includes scary scenes and famous Halloween icons. Some pages will take longer to color than others, giving you an opportunity to squeeze some coloring in between shopping for Halloween candy and making DIY costumes.

You can find even more free coloring pages in our collection of 50+ Adult Coloring Pages and even more craft project ideas for adults at FaveCrafts.com.

Not only do these free coloring sheets allow you to get creative, shading in these pages is said to have stress-busting capabilities. That means you can have fun and boost your mental health at the same time! Follow the tips below for how to print these coloring cuties to begin your coloring journey.

What Paper to Use

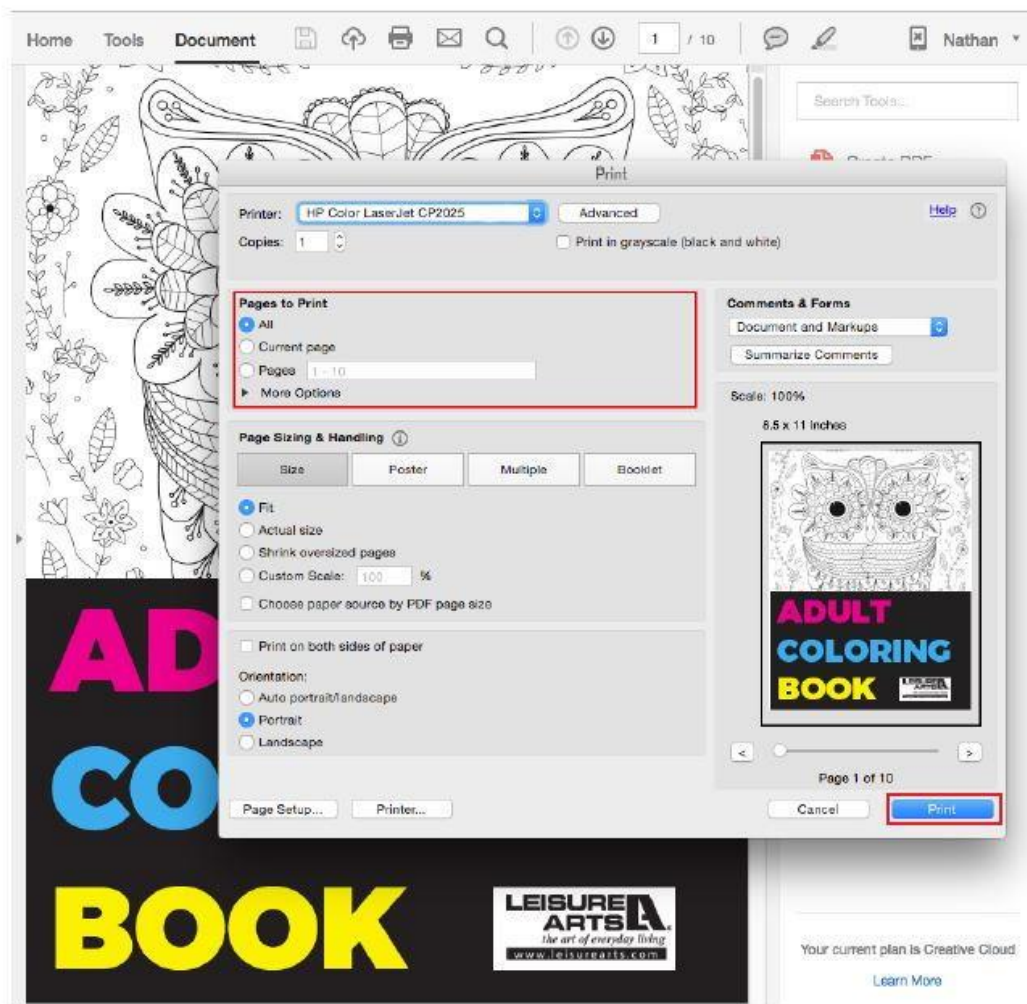

Figuring out how to print coloring book pages is one thing, but one of the hardest parts is knowing what kind of paper to use when printing these pages. Some computer paper, for example, can be far too thin or too slippery for your favorite coloring utensils. Check out these tips on how to print coloring sheets and what paper to use.

1. If you are printing simple coloring pages that you will not be using in another crafting capacity, medium-weight computer paper will work just fine.
2. When it comes to the finish of your paper, you will want to use a matte finish. Glossy paper (used for printing color photos) will be too slippery, especially if you are using markers.
3. If you are looking to create a long-standing DIY craft to add to cards, other paper crafts, or even decoupage craft ideas, use a thicker paper like cardstock.
4. Looking to save money? Consider printing your coloring pages on the blank side of other pages such as printed out recipes, agendas, or other documents that you do not need anymore. Just make sure the paper is thick enough and the info is not confidential.

How to Print Coloring Book Pages – PDFs

Some of the best coloring book pages are in PDF format. This is especially helpful, because the settings in Adobe make it pretty easy to download and print coloring pages.

1. Click the download button to download the PDF of the eBook (you already did that!).
2. When the dialog box appears, choose “desktop” as the location for the download.
3. After the eBook downloads, double click the icon of it on your desktop.
4. Go to File>Print.
5. The dialog box will ask you which pages you want to print. Select “All” to print out the whole book, or enter a page range to print part of the book (e.g. 3-7).

6. Click print, and then gather your printed pages and have fun!
